

BUSY TERM WILL OPEN ON MONDAY

Heaviest of all Court Terms is the November Term, and 142 Cases
Are Pending Trial

71 DECIDED LAST TERM

Criminal Docket has 36 Cases on File, and Jury is Called For One of Them Thursday

The heaviest court term, in point of business, is ahead of court officials, as the November term gets under way in the circuit court Monday.
This term is always recognized as the busiest of all terms, because more cases can be disposed of by juries and by the court, during the winter months, than any other period of the year.

Both juries have been drawn for service during the term. The petit jury, which tries all civil and criminal cases, will be called for the first time on next Thursday, when a state case is set for trial.

The call of the grand jurors is usually left to the discretion of the prosecutor and the court, and it is the custom to convene them sometime during the winter term.

The first case for the jury next Thursday is one of the state against
W. Everett Swain, an aged man of Milroy, who was fined in Justice Steeh's court recently on an assault and battery charge, and appealed the decision to the higher court.

The fall term which ended last week, is among the lightest on record, probably due to the fact that it is a hard matter during harvest and early fall to get farmers to sit on a jury, as well as a difficult matter to obtain witnesses.

However, during the September term, there were 71 civil cases disposed of in court, and by getting rid of these cases, either by trial, judgment or dismissal, it leaves more room for the winter term.

The civil docket still has plenty of business left, as there are today 148 cases pending, some of them being minor matters, and others of much importance.

The criminal docket is not so crowded, but there are 36 cases on the book, many of which are at issue, and others which are of long standing, and will gradually be dropped out of sight.

P. O. CAMPAIGN TO MAIL EARLY OPENS

Rushville Office Receives Instructions for Wrapping Packing and

LARGELY SAME AS LAST YEAR

"Please Do Not Open Until Christmas" Permitted on Parcels—
Early Mailing Dates Given

With the holiday season just around the corner, the Rushville postoffice has received a copy of the Postal Bulletin containing instruc-
mailing Christmas gifts, which are largely the same as in past years, but they bear repetition because few remember what the postal regulations are.

The postoffice again extends the privilege of indorsing parcels and envelops with the words, "Please do not open until Christmas," so that Christmas gifts arriving before the holiday will not be mistaken from other mail.

The postal department especially urges that Christmas cards be mailed early because millions are mailed each year, and if they were all held until a few days before Christmas, great congestion would result.

"The early mailing of Christmas cards is just as important as parcels," says the Bulletin. "Millions of these cards, separate and in envelope, are mailed each Christmas.
Consequently, great congestion and delay occurs in large postoffices, where they are all mailed within a day or two of Christmas. Therefore, if you want your Christmas greetings to reach your relatives and friends on or before Christmas day, follow the instructions in the preceding paragraph relative to mailing early and be certain of delivery before Christmas."

It is set forth that Christmas gifts and cards addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed not later than December 20; within two days travel, not later than December 18; within three days travel, not later than December 16; more distant points, not later than December 14. Parcels and cards for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 22.

All parcels must be securely wrapped and packed with strong paper and heavy twine. Articles that require special packing are listed as follows: Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks, hats, shoes, cut flowers, candles, drawings, paintings, unmounted maps, sharp pointed or sharp edged instruments or tools.

All articles easily broken or damaged must be plainly marked "Fragile" and articles that are liable to smell enroute should be marked "perishable". Glassware, fragile toys, crockery and the like should be packed so as to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.

No parcel may be more than 84 inches in length and width combined and for delivery locally and in the first, second and third zones, 70 pounds is the maximum weight; in all other zones, 50 pounds.

Written in the nature of personal correspondence can not be inclosed in parcels. Miscellaneous printed matter weighing not more than four pounds can not be mailed as parcel post, but such matter weighing over four pounds is not restricted by the parcel post regulations.

MRS. DORA KUNTZ HIT BY TRUCK, BADLY HURT

Former Rushville Woman May Lose Foot as Result of Accident in

RESIDES WITH HER DAUGHTER

Mrs. Dora Kuntz, former Rushville woman, was seriously injured at Logansport Thursday evening, when struck by an automobile truck, and may have to undergo an operation
foot, according to word received here today. Mrs. Kuntz is residing with her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Norris. An account in a Logansport paper of Friday describes the accident
as follows:

Mrs. Dora Kuntz, 54, of 504 W.
Linden, sustained painful bruises about the body and face and the
necessary as the result of being struck by a Maiben laundry truck while crossing Eel River avenue on Market street shortly after five o'- clock last night.

The truck driver, Howard Seybold, 517 Barron street, asserts that he was not traveling at a fast rate of speed but was unable to see the woman until she was in front of the car. When hit by the left fender, her leg was simultaneously caught under the wheel and she remained upright until it passed over.

The Kroeger ambulance was summoned and Mrs. Kuntz was removed to her home. Shortly after she was taken to the St. Joseph hospital where Dr. J. W. Stewart examined the injured member.

DEMOCRATS TO CARRY THE FIGHT INTO COURT

Contend That Revised Figures From
Elected

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 15—Democratic leaders will file mandamus proceedings against the secretary of state in an attempt to force acceptance of revised figures from Howard and Sullivan counties in the race for justice of the state supreme court from the first district, it was indicated today.

would give George Denton, Democrat, a majority of 412 over Benjamin Willoughby, Republican.

The vote as announced by the canvassing board without the revised figures from the two counties gave Willoughby the election by one vote.

Denton said he would not ask for a recount or start court proceedings to compel acceptance of the revised figures, but Walter Chambers, state chairman, and others indicated the fight would be carried into the courts.

18 PER CENT OF TAXES FOR STATE

Semi-Annual Distribution, Completed by Auditor, Shows 82 Percent Remains in County

County Official Again First in State to Make Settlement—Sum of $457,585.69 is Distributed

The distribution of $457,585.69 collected in the fall installment of taxes has been accomplished by the county auditor, Phil Wilk, and the settlement sheet, which was taken to the state auditor's office Friday, was approved in every particular.

As is always the case, Mr. Wilk was the first auditor in Indiana to complete the semi-annual distribution of taxes to the various funds and have it approved by the state office. The task was completed ten days earlier than last fall.

On paper, the state is supposed to receive $82,225.71, or approximately eighteen per cent of the sum distributed, all of which is derived from taxation, except common school fund and permanent endowment fund interest. But the state has been advanced $27,000 on the fall settlement, and the amount actually paid to the state was $55-225.71.

The money paid the state was raised for the following purposes:
state tax, $8,203.90; benevolent institution fund $31,304.03; state school, $18,881.18; state educational fund tax $13,043.42; vocational education fund $1,305.57; state highway commission, $4; soldiers memorial fund, $1,565.22; agricultural experiment station, $1,043.47; state teachers' pension fund, $2,739.11; Dunes parks fund, $521.73; state agricultural board, $652.18; common school interest fund, $2,654.56; permanent endowment fund interest $201.19; docket fees, $110.

Some of this money is returned to the county—namely, the per capita share of the state school tax, all of which goes to the state and is distributed among the counties in accordance with the number of persons of school age.

The remaining eighty-two percent of the taxes collected remain in the county and are distributed among the various funds as follows:

County tax $29,794.92; gravel road repair fund $26,087; township tax, $9,017.14; tuition tax, $74,759-97 (to pay school teachers) special school tax, $79,674.63 (to maintain school buildings); road tax $322.65; township poor tax, $3,095.30; gravel road bond and interest tax, $97-735.13 (to pay for new roads); library tax $2,582.11; school bonds tax $21,856.47 (to meet bonds issued to pay for new school buildings); corporation tax $24,555.89;
vocational agriculture tax $1,335.02; city bonds tax $3,691.90; street oil-ing tax $922.98; street fund tax, $116.74; park board fund tax $738-40; flood bonds $86.

The small amount distributed for state highway tax and flood bond tax is due to the fact that these two funds are discontinued this year and some "drop" tax was collected from last year which belonged in these funds. There is no highway tax since the gasoline tax law was passed and the county flood bonds

SPECIAL MEETINGS SUNDAY

An audience of more than four hundred and fifty persons was in attendance at the revival meeting at the First Baptist church Friday night. A special feature of the ser-the Rev. and Mrs. H. E. McKinley, who have been in charge of the music during the past two weeks, the children gave a program of song and scripture memory work which was a delight to the entire audience.

Tomorrow, in addition to the regular services, the McKinleys will give a special musical program at two o'clock in the afternoon. Mr.
McKinley will sing a number of negro jubilee songs and will render "The Holy City," on the trombone.
A similar program was rendered before a large and appreciative au-large attendance is expected for the program Sunday.

The special revival meetings will close Sunday night and those who have not yet attended any service are urged to hear the McKinleys before they leave. The service this

TO ELIMINATE ALL STATE ROAD DETOURS BEFORE WINTER SETS IN

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 15—Highway officials are engaged in a survey of the entire system with a view of eliminating practically all detours before winter sets in. John D. Williams, state road director, announced in the commission's traffic bulletin today. Of course, it may be impossible to remove every one, Mr. Williams explained, but the commission is determined to rush work and make the system practically without detours this winter. Several of the detours are around small bridges and can be handled by roadside run-around, he said.

Williams called attention that if Marion county opened its pavement out Northwestern Avenue to No. 15 at the county line on Saturday as expected, traffic need no longer proceed to 15 via the Springmill route, necessary for many weeks. Bartholomew county has completed a short stretch of No. 26 and this pavement will be opened to traffic the first week in December, he said. The commission has removed a detour on No. 5 at Palmyra which was considered one of the roughest on the system. Traffic is using the pavement on 22 between Indianapolis and Martinsville by going around three detours. The south detour is very narrow and naturally dangerous. Highway officials prefer that through traffic use No. 12 between the two cities.

All new pavement between Indianapolis and Shelbyville on No. 6 is now open to traffic which will find only one short detour between the two cities. There are two bridge run-arounds on this route but easy to negotiate.

No. 1—Pavement in use from Indianapolis to a point 14 miles north of Kokomo, with a detour at bridge 7 miles north of Kokomo. Closed from Neads Corner to Peru, detour marked. South of Indianapolis detour via Dudleytown between Seymour and Crothersville account construction. Detour marked between Perry and Sellersburg.

No. 4—One mile of earth road between Dugger and Linton; detour over county road through Dugger in wet weather. Run-around at Basseron Creek, 3 miles east of Sullivan, soft in rainy weather. Detour just west of Seymour account bridge construction.

No. 5—Construction between Logansport and West Baden, detour over State Roads 41 and 22.

No. 6—Pavement open between New Bethel and Shelbyville with one short detour between Northwest of Indianapolis use pavement to 3.7 miles north of Lebanon, thence on short detour back to pavement. Detour 6 miles north of Lebanon to west through Thorntown returning to No. 6 at 3 miles north of Thorntown.

No. 7—Closed for about 5 miles west of Peru (portion overlapping No. 1 being paved) detour marked.

No. 10—Closed from Evansville north 1/2 mile account paving on each side of Little Pigeon Creek bridge. Detour marked, open Nov. 20. Closed between Princeton and a point 2 miles north of Hazelton. Traffic can use White river bridge. Use pavement about Nov. 28th. Closed at 4 miles north of Veedersburg account paving, detour to east, returning to No. 10 at 7 miles south of Attica. Bridge out 1 mile north of Marshall; detour is fair. Detour west at Attica thru Williamsport account Wabash railroad bridge crossing. Detour east at 1 mile north of Carbondale account construction.

No. 11—Roadside run-around at bridge out at 1/2 mile north of Road 17.

No. 12—Drive slow because of grading new fill at Fish Creek 4 miles south of Freedom.

No. 13—Detour 1 mile north of Montpelier account bridge out over Salamonie river. Detour around bridge construction just south of Bluffton. Roadside run-around at bridge projects between Ossian and Bluffton.

No. 14—Earth road from Leopold Junction to St. Croix is soft in wet weather.

No. 16—Paving completed from Little Pigeon Creek to a point 2 1/2 miles east of junction of roads 16 and 18. Open about Nov. 22. Detour over earth road at overhead railroad crossing projects at Lincoln City. (New location not passable between Lincoln City and a point 4 miles west of St. Meinrad. Traffic between St. Meinrad and Dale use county gravel road, Construction between St. Meinrad and Leavenworth. (Avoid) Watch for blasting at washout 3 miles west of New Albany.

No. 17—Roadside run-around east of Waterloo, and three run-arounds between Kendallville and Ligonier.

No. 22—Pavement completed between Indianapolis and Martinsville and is being used by traffic using three detours around bridge construction. South detour very narrow. However, the majority of thru traffic continues using No. 12 in order not to lose time on detours. Construction south of Paoli should be avoided if possible. Detour marked around bridge project south of Harrodsburg.

No. 24—Construction between Palmyra and Salem, detour via Fredericksburg or Martinsburg. (New Albany and Louisville traffic detour via Pekin and Martinsburg coming out on Road 5 at Greenville.)

No. 25—New pavement open from Lawrence to Goshen—Middlebury pavement; thence go north into Middlebury to State Road 25. Run-around at bridge construction 8 miles east of Angola.

No. 26—Short detour 2 miles southeast of Columbus open first week in December.

No. 27—Detour only fair around bridge out over Elkhart river 3 miles south of Goshen.

No. 28—Earth road between Sandy Hook and Rodgers; ferry at White river. Drive carefully at dangerous hill south of Newberry.

No. 32—Roadside run-around at one bridge between Spencer and Greencastle. Road closed 2 miles north of Fincastle. Detour fair. Run-around at bridge construction at Romney.

No. 33—Side detour account bridge construction between Veedersburg and Covington.

No. 40—Bridge building between Madison and Brooksburg. Closed from 3 miles east of Scottsburg to Blocher. Detour good five miles course stone between Freeland and Cato.

No. 41—Being rebuilt as stone road. Traffic use new grade over Willow Valley hill except in wet weather, then use the old road.

Legalizing 2.75 Beer

Encouraged by the decision of a Baltimore jury, which found that home made wine containing 11.64 per cent alcohol did not come under the prohibition law, wets in congress are reported to be organizing a new drive for modification of the Volstead act.Fortunately for this country, Baltimore juries are not construing the laws for us. The mere fact that this jury came to such a conclusion does not mean that such a construction of the law is in keeping with the predominate sentiment in the nation.Representative Hill, who provoked the case to test the power of the prohibition enforcement law, is known as a leading wet, and his position probably had some effect on the jury's verdict.The decision of twelve men in the Maryland court settled nothing.
Those who fought so persistently for many years to make the manufacture of intoxicating liquor illegal, will not tolerate any tampering with the amendment to the constitution or the law that deals with its enforcement.Women were outraged by legalized rum for decade upon decade and their pleadings were in vain. Now when a woman talks to a politician,
the kind of language he understands.
Wets may make their feeble assaults, but they are attached to a forlorn hope as long as the nineteenth amendment is in force.

Pity The Poor Postman

Now come s the season of the year when we search our failing memory in vain for the names of the folks who sent up those handsomely engraved greeting cards last year; when we try to decide whether we should try to match the gift that came late last year, and when the poor postman looks forward to the unhappy days and wonders if he can hold out.Pity the poor postman! Give him a chance to get through another holiday season without becoming round-shouldered and bow-legged from carrying the heavy loads with which we burden him just before Christmas.Mail them early and not any more frequently than you have to. And remember, also, to wrap and pack them correctly. Then Uncle Sam will have no quarrel with you.It's entirely proper, too, if you want to make your friends and relatives real curious, to write on the parcel, "Please do not open until Christmas."And above all other things, if you have the Christmas greeting card complex and want to send everybody in the neighborhood one, go out on Christmas eve and slip them
chance to eat turkey at the regular hour Christmas day.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service WriterWASHINGTON—A strange twist of fate, it seems, that Henry Cabot Lodge came to his death by the same sort of blow that struck down Woodrow Wilson at the height of his career, when he and Lodge were battling in the biggest fight of their lives, over the League of Nations.It was a brain lesion that brought the Wilson collapse. By reason of his fewer years and his more robust vitality, Wilson was able to fight his way back to partial recovery. Senator Lodge, 10 years older than was Wilson at the time he was struck down, and weakened by two recent operations, never relied.NOT only in the similarity of the stroke that ended their careers, however, were the lives of these two men alike.At the end, the bitter political enemies this generation in America has known, the qualities that brought each to greatness were much the same.They were the two outstanding intellectuals in our public life.
Both were great figures in the world of American letters.Each proud to the point of imperiousness, but lacking pride and reluctance with a scholarly understanding and depth of knowledge that lifted them from the rank of mere pretenders to the rank of real leaders, it was inevitable that when they did clash it should be a battle to the death.And so it was. The death of Lodge, no less than that of Wilson, can be traced back to that struggle of 1919, which sapped not only the mental but the physical vigor of the two chief contenders. Lodge defeated our entry into the League.
But he was a sick man ever after.TRUE lines of these two lives first crossed because of their mutual interests as scholars and historians.
Lodge was editor of the Inter-national Review, back in the 70's, when he accepted for publication a political treatise by Woodrow Wilson, then a student at Princeton.Wilson recalled this to Lodge at his first meeting with the senator, following his election as president, declaring that he always remembered Lodge as the editor who published his first article.The last meeting between the two was at noon on March 4, 1921, just a few minutes before President Harding took the oath as chief executive.Wilson, crippled in body, had been assisted to the president's room in the Senate wing of the capitol, to sign last-minute meas-

Congress.Lodge, as leader of the Repub-was ready to adjourn.PROBABLY no more tense moment ever will be experienced by any of those present than when Lodge and Wilson faced each other on this occasion.There was a tense, seemingly breathless pause, after Lodge had spoken.Wilson, his face drawn by his long illness, his cane at his side, seemed at first oblivious of the presence of the Senate leader. He was still fighting the pressure of that blood clot on the brain.Then, slowly, with mental self-control that he was not able to impart to his paralyzed muscles, he turned. Except for his eyes, his face was coldly expressionless.

But when he spoke the sharpness of his tone was like icy steel down one's spine."I have no further communica-preciate your courtesy. Good morn-

RUSHVILLE SHOWS BIG IMPROVEMENT

STRONGER ON DEFENSIVE

Rushville Makes Rapid Strides in This Department of Game—Hits Basket Friday Night

Although the Rushville high school basketball team outclassed Liberty at that city Friday night, overwhelming them by the score of 57 to 11, the game showed remarkable playing on the part of the locals, and a marked improvement in all departments of the game was clearly visible.

The Liberty team was a bunch of scrappy players and they fought hard at all times, but were puzzled by the quick, snappy passing of the Lions, and also could not penetrate the defense that the locals formed each time Liberty got possession of the ball.

In the game before the Rushville team displayed a weakness on defense, but in the game last night it showed that they were coming into their style of play, and another outstanding feature was the rapid fire passing that the locals possessed.

The ball was passed up and down the floor at a mile-a-minute pace and the team went big on hitting the basket, especially working the ball underneath for the short shots.

The team used all of the players in both halves of the game, and although Liberty fought hard to overcome the lead, they were weak on hitting the basket. Liberty also was without the services of two regulars.

The Lions were led in the scoring by Lakin who found himself with the basket, and counted ten times from the field. Arbuckle, Warth, Newbold followed with four each, and McNamara sunk in three. Every player performed in first class shape and it was worth the trip to Liberty to see the team work out like they did.

At the start of the game Bond fouled for Liberty, but Arbuckle missed both chances. In the next few seconds Bond dropped in a field goal for Liberty that gave the home team much encouragement. Newbold, however, tied the count soon afterwards, and when McNamara followed with another goal, it gave Rushville 4 and Liberty 2.

When Lakin scored the next one, Liberty called time out. When play resumed McNamara fouled, and Bond made good one of the two chances, making the score 6 to 3. Rushville then started their systematic playing and Liberty was unable to score any more in the half, while Rushville, with a full line of substitutions taking their places, had the score up to 28, with Liberty at 3, when the first half ended.

Liberty began to display their fighting spirit at the start of the second period, and scored two field goals right at the start, making the score 28 to 7. The locals gradually began to leave them again, and the score was taken to 38, with Liberty trailing at 11.

Liberty was unable to go beyond the 11 mark, while the Lions continued their bombardment of the basket, and ran the score up to 57, when the game ended. Just as the shot was fired, a foul was called on Liberty, and Warth attempted for the point just as the crowd was leaving the floor, but he missed.

Seconds Victors Also

In the preliminary game last night the Rushville second team won their game over the Liberty second team, 12 to 9, in a game in which neither team was able to hit the basket with much consistency.

For a long time after the game started the teams were unable to score, and finally Rushville scored on a foul. Liberty made a field goal, and Rushville matched it, and the first half ended with the ridiculously low score of 3 to 2.

In the last half the teams played on even terms with first one in the lead and then the other, with the

Sets Dizzy Pace and Whips Old Rivals Friday Night, 60 to 17

Moscow high school, accompanied by a big delegation of rooters, visited their old time rivals at Raleigh Friday night, and plowed through the defense of Raleigh for many goals, winning out by a top heavy score of 60 to 17.

Moscow has set a dizzy pace for most of the teams this year and last night made up for some of the close games they have played with Raleigh in the past. Raleigh this year has comparatively a new team, and the showing against the veteran Moscow team is not regarded as so bad, and with the season far ahead, Coach Scales has hopes of getting the team over in good shape.

Stay in Win Column by Defeating New Salem, 21 to 16

The Ging high school again showed their strength when they went to New Salem Friday night, and downed the New Salem tilters by the close score of 21 to 16.

The Ging team is exceptionally strong this year, and so far has met with good success. The New Salem team is handicapped this year on account of having to break in a new team, due to the fact that most of the players graduated last spring, leaving Coach Jinks with new material. He has bright prospects for next year.

Rushville boys making a field goal in the closing minute that put them in front, 12 to 9.

CARTHAGE OVERCOMES LEAD, WINS BY 1 POINT

Trailing Behind Spiceland by Margin of 12 at Half Time, They Operate Bag of Tricks

TO MEET MANILLA NEXT WEEK

The Carthage Basketball team overcame a twelve point lead in the last half of the game with Spiceland at Spiceland Friday night, and won by one point, the score being 32 to 31.

Spiceland led the first half 17 to 11, and continued their point making in the last half until they had piled up the score to 25 while Carthage was trailing with 13 points.

At this point of the game Carthage came back with a last minute rally and began putting the ball through the hoop for many goals. They overcame the Spiceland lead in a few minutes and when the final shot was fired, won out by one point the score standing 32 to 31 in their favor.

On next Saturday night the Carthage team will play Manilla at Arlington.

Swamps Waldron Under Avalanche of Baskets Friday Night

Milroy got into the win column Friday night, when they swamped Waldron under an avalanche of baskets, coming out on top 41 to 16.

Milroy and Waldron have long been rivals and although Milroy had met two defeats in the former games each were by close margins, one to Carthage and the other to Connersville. The game last night showed Milroy in better form on the floor, and they hit the basket with much more accuracy. After the first few minutes of play, Milroy left Waldron trailing behind, and many substitutions were made during the game in order to give all of the Milroy players a chance.

Intersectionals Aid Growth

By HENRY L. FARRELL

New York, Nov. 15—In the phenomenal growth of football to a position where it is possibly America's most popular sport, the inter-sectional idea of competition has had a most important part.

Even with competition confined to intra-sectional games, football might have extended its field in proportion with other popular sports but it is quite certain that the game would not have grown so stupendously as it has in the past five years without inter-sectional competition.

Football has become so popular that there is no way of gauging the future growth of the game. The biggest problem now is to find room for the millions of interested fans who want to spend their Saturday afternoons watching a battle of two teams, in which the majority of the spectators have no personal interest.

George Huff, the hustling graduate athletic manager of the University of Illinois, opened this season a most magnificent stadium at Urbana that was built and dedicated to the memory of 200 Illinois men who gave their lives with the A. E. F. The stadium, as it now stands, accommodates about 55,000.

"When the Yale Bowl was built", Huff said recently, "the idea to provide a place for 80,000 spectators was considered foolish. But look what has happened since. The Yale Bowl is not one-half big enough to accommodate crowds for the big games."

"Because we wanted to build our stadium without going into debt we made the plants fit our pocketbook, but we kept in mind the fact that Illinois would outgrow that stadium and we put it up so that it can be added to from time to time. We are going to do that and I hope before I leave Illinois to see a stadium there large enough to seat 150,000 and I'm quite sure that we will see it filled. Perhaps then it will not be large enough."

Discussions of the popularity of football always bring a rise out of the old reliable baseball circles. They claim that baseball is the national pastime and that certain baseball games would fill a stadium just as large as any of the football structures. This perhaps is correct. Certain game would draw equally with baseball, but we do not believe that as many games of baseball would outdraw as many games of football if it were possible to name the best baseball games possible as opposed to the best games of football that could be conceived.

It perhaps is a fact that greater numbers of youngsters and older athletes are engaged in playing baseball if it were possible to get accurate figures on the numbers of youngsters who engage in the two sports some surprising facts might be obtained about the popularity of football. Baseball always will have an advantage in that it holds forth over a longer and more comfortable season of the year. Kids who play baseball all summer might play football all fall in the same numbers if they didn't have to spend the major portion of the day in

Wins Game From Webb on Modern Appliance Floor Friday Night

Manilla high school doubled the count on the Webb high school here Friday night, in a game played on the Modern Appliance floor, with the final count being 28 to 14.

Although Webb was outclassed, they fought a hard game, and tried in vain to hold down the husky team from Manilla.

In the curtain raiser to the game, the Webb girls took the measure of the New Salem girls by the score of 26 to 14, in a game that was fast and exciting from the start.

school. Football would have the advantage in that its equipment does not cost so much, the loss of equipment would not be so heavy and the smaller playing field for football would make it more handy for the youngsters.

Pastor to Answer Questions At Sunday Evening Services

In connection with the sermon on "The Home Maker" at St. Paul's M. E. church Sunday evening, the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Hargett, will answer the following questions:

- What are the commonest faults of girls?
 - What are the commonest mistakes preceding marriage? What are the leading mistakes after marriage?
 - What girls ought not marry?
 - Are the qualities that capture many a girl's heart always the ones to be desired in a husband?
 - Do men prefer beauty or brains?
 - Is it wise for wives to follow business or professional life?
 - To insure a happy marriage what qualities ought each party seek in the other?
 - Why do girls often give less care to the selection of a partner for life than they do to the selection of a dress, a hat, or a pair of shoes?
- The subject Sunday evening is one of the vital ones of the series.

By Rimsky Korsakoff (Russia) (1844-1908) B. Tikhavin
Rimsky-Korsakoff, born 1844, was an honest, fearless, fiery—a strong influence in social as well as artistic movements in Russia. He commenced life as a naval officer. In that capacity he is believed to have touched the shores of the United States in 1862. As we shall find, his acquaintance with the deep meant much to him as a composer. He loved nature and the Russian legends that nature inspired. He was continually telling fairy tales in his music. Thus his art was in most respects the precise opposite of that of Moussorgsky. Moussorgsky faced the realities of life, its tumult of purpose and desires, its noble dreams, its petty absurdities. All these things, which he contemplated with a passionate and unflinching gaze, went on his canvas. Rimsky-Korsakoff preferred the realm of the legendary and the poetic. He is the best known of "The Five" to the outside world. No one of the Russian composers was such a master in handling the orchestra. Tchaikovsky wrote of the gorgeous "Spanish Caprice" that it was the most brilliant feat of orchestration which had come to his attention. This "Caprice" is a fantasia on Spanish airs treated with exceptional spirit by the composer, Rimsky-Korsakoff, in addition to innumerable compositions for the voice and solo instruments, composed thirteen Barrieto's record of the song to the sun, sung by the queen in the most extravagant and delightful of operas, "The Golden Cockerel" This was the last opera that Rimsky-Korsakoff wrote.

The bold theme sung in octaves by the brass, with which this movement opens is the sea motive. It is heard in the previous movements also, but never with such commanding power; for this fourth movement from "Scheherazade, is really an epitome of all the rest. The composer seems to have had the seven tales of "Sinbad" generally in mind but, as in the book, he has intentionally introduced episodes from other stories and portrayed them musically. He aims for general impression rather than specific incident. After the tremendous, brazen opening the movement proper begins. In an instant we are transported to Bagdad. We mingle with the crowd in the bazaars, here an old blind merchant there an Arab merchant, a soldier, a begging priest, a veiled woman. Over all is the blazing sun, shining upon a city of minarets and towers, of broad squares and palaces, on intricate, mysterious byways. All this is depicted musically with marvelous power. Snarling trumpets intone a call in vigorous rhythm; languishing melodies for strings, curious nasal melodies for clarinet or oboe, velvety strains for flute. Nothing lasts long; all is transient as the passing throng. But ever and anon come a sullen reminder of the opening sea-motive. Incomplete at first it gains force as the music progresses. Harshly, dissonant, it breaks in upon the light, flitting melodies, till finally we have the picture of the shipwreck.

GINGS SCHOOL
LATIN CLUB
Last Thursday evening, the Inter Nos Latin Club met at the home of Helen Kennedy. The meeting was opened by a song which was followed by the roll call and minutes of the preceding meeting. During a business session we decided to have an exchange in the near future. As a part of the program Robert McCulloch gave a talk on "The Custom of Roman Enjoyment." Old folks at home was sung by the quartet composed of Mildred McMillin, Alice Eakins, Robert Meyer and Robert McCulloch. The program was in charge of Helen Bingham assisted by Mildred Jackson and Jesse Eckart. During the social hour two contests were held and refreshments were later served.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE
The seventh and eighth year girls have been studying how to furnish a kitchen to make beverages, and to plan breakfasts. In their laboratory work they made cocoa and cooked mashed potatoes. Following this were different topics such as cereals, the fire food stuffs and the make up of coffee and cocoa.

AGRICULTURE
The agriculture boys have almost completed their study and management of their imaginary farms income and expenditures. They are now ready to state the loss and gain during the period of one year.

Mrs. Austin, teacher of the seventh and eighth grades, was absent from school last Tuesday and written lessons were given to her students that day.

The Gings Basketball team was defeated last Friday night by the Rushville Seconds 27 to 16. Friday night they went to New Salem and a good game was expected.

November Term, and 148 Cases

Criminal Docket has 36 Cases on

of business, is ahead of court officials, as the November term gets under way in the circuit court Monday.
of the year.

cases, will be called for the first time on next Thursday, when a

time during the winter term.

W. Everett Swain, an aged man of
Steel's court recently on an assault

on a jury, as well as a difficult matter to obtain witnesses.

However, during the September
room for the winter term.

much importance.

the book, many of which are at issue, and others which are of long standing, and will gradually be dropped out of sight.

Rush county school principals are attending the Indiana high school principals conference, which opened at Bloomington Friday noon, and was to close today noon, following which all of the principals expected coming football game with Wabash.

The cornerstone of the new stadium was to be laid at that time.

Every high school principal in the M. Koch of Manilla, attended the sessions. They were urged to do so by the county board of education at

"Please Do Not Open Until Christ-

Postal Bulletin containing instruc-
largely the same as in past years,
remember what the postal regulations are.

other mail.

result.

ope, are mailed each Christmas.
delay occurs in large postoffices,
day or two of Christmas. Therefore,

It is set forth that Christmas gifts
mailed not later than December 20;
within two days travel, not later
travel, not later than December 16;
later than December 22.

instruments or tools.

spoil enroute should be marked
"perishable". Glassware, fragile toys, crockery and the like should
in transit.

all other zones, 50 pounds.

parcel post regulations.

Mrs. Dora Kuntz, former Rushville
woman, was seriously injured at
here today.

Mrs. Kuntz is residing with her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Norris. An account in a Logansport pa-
as follows:

Mrs. Dora Kuntz, 54, of 504 W.
Linden, sustained painful bruises
clock last night.

bold, 517 Barron street, asserts that
right until it passed over.

to her home. Shortly after she was
where Dr. J. W. Stewart examined the injured member.

He found that the injuries about the body and head were of minor nature while the full effects of the injury to the leg cannot be determined for three or four days. One bone above the ankle was completely crushed. If it knits properly amputation will not be necessary.

Content That Revised Figures From

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 15—Demo-
from the first district, it was indicated today.

would give George Denton, Demo-
min Willoughby, Republican.

Willoughby the election by one vote.

Semi-Annual Distribution, Completed by Auditor, Shows 82 Percent

County Official Again First in State
$457,585.69 is Distributed

collected in the fall installment of
to the state auditor's office Friday,
was approved in every particular.

tion of taxes to the various funds
days earlier than last fall.

receive $82,225.71, or approximately eighteen per cent of the sum dis-
fall settlement, and the amount actually paid to the state was $55, 225.71.

raised for the following purposes:
fund tax $13,043.42; vocational ed-
way commission, $4; soldiers mem-
experiment station, $1,043.47; state
teachers' pension fund $2,739.11;
agricultural board, $652.18; common school interest fund, $2,654.56;
permanent endowment fund interest $201.19; docket fees, $110.

tributed among the counties in ac-
sons of school age.

the various funds as follows:

tax, $9,017.14; tuition tax, $74,759.
school buildings); road tax $322.65;
township poor tax, $3,095.30; gravel
road bond and interest tax, $97, 735.13 (to pay for new roads); li-
sued to pay for new school buildings); corporation tax $24,555.89;
vocational agriculture tax $1,346.
04; electric light tax, $1,335.02;
city bonds tax $3,691.90; street oil-
ing tax $922.98; street fund tax, $116.74; park board fund tax $738.
40; flood bonds $0.66.

from last year which belonged in

two o'clock in the afternoon. Mr.

program Sunday.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 15—Highway officials are engaged in a survey of the entire system with a view of eliminating practically all detours before winter sets in. John D. Williams, state road director, announced in the commission's traffic bulletin today. Of course, it may be impossible to remove every one, Mr. Williams explained, but the commission is determined to rush work and make the system practically without detours this winter. Several of the detours are around small bridges and can be handled by roadside run-around, he said.

Williams called attention that if Marion county opened its pavement on Northwestern Avenue to No. 15 at the county line on Saturday as expected, traffic need no longer proceed to 15 via the Springfield route, necessary for many weeks. Bartholomew county has completed a short stretch of No. 26 and this pavement will be opened to traffic the first week in December, he said. The commission has removed a detour on No. 5 at Palmyra which was considered one of the roughest on the system. Traffic is using the pavement on 22 between Indianapolis and Martinsville by going around three detours. The south detour is very narrow and naturally dangerous. Highway officials prefer that through traffic use No. 12 between the two cities.

All new pavement between Indianapolis and Shelbyville on No. 6 is now open to traffic which will find only one short detour between the two cities. There are two bridge run-arounds on this route but easy to negotiate.

No. 1—Pavement in use from Indianapolis to a point 14 miles north of Kokomo, with a detour at bridge 7 miles north of Kokomo. Closed from Neads Corner to Peru, detour marked. South of Indianapolis detour via Dudleytown between Seymour and Crothersville account construction. Detour marked between Perry and Sellersburg.

No. 4—One mile of earth road between Dugger and Linton; detour over county road through Dugger in wet weather. Run-around at Basseron Creek, 3 miles east of Sullivan, soft in rainy weather. Detour just west of Seymour account bridge construction.

No. 5—Construction between Logansport and West Baden, detour over State Roads 41 and 22.

No. 6—Pavement open between New Bethel and Shelbyville with one short detour between Northwest of Indianapolis use pavement to 3.7 miles north of Lebanon, thence on short detour back to pavement. Detour 6 miles north of Lebanon to west through Thorntown returning to No. 6 at 3 miles north of Thorntown.

No. 7—Closed for about 5 miles west of Peru (portion overlapping No. 1 being paved) detour marked.

No. 10—Closed from Evansville north 1 mile account paving on each side of Little Pigeon Creek bridge. Detour marked, open Nov. 20. Closed between Princeton and a point 2 miles north of Hazelton. Traffic can use White river bridge. Use pavement about Nov. 28th. Closed at 4 miles north of Veedersburg account paving, detour to east, returning to No. 10 at 7 miles south of Attica. Bridge out 1 mile north of Marshall; detour is fair. Detour west at Attica thru Williamsport account Wabash railroad bridge crossing. Detour east at 1 mile north of Carbondale account construction.

No. 11—Roadside run-around at bridge out at 1 mile north of Road 17.

No. 12—Drive slow because of grading new fill at Fish Creek 4 miles south of Freedom.

No. 13—Detour 1 mile north of Montpelier account bridge out over Salamonie river. Detour around bridge construction just south of Bluffton. Roadside run-around at bridge projects between Ossian and Bluffton.

No. 14—Earth road from Leopold Junction to St. Croix is soft in wet weather.

No. 16—Paving completed from Little Pigeon Creek to a point 23 miles east of junction of roads 16 and 18. Open about Nov. 22. Detour over earth road at overhead railroad crossing projects at Lincoln City. (New location not passable between Lincoln City and a point 4 miles west of St. Meinrad. Traffic between St. Meinrad and Dale use county gravel road. Construction between St. Meinrad and Leavenworth. (Avoid) Watch for blasting at washout 3 miles west of New Albany.

No. 17—Roadside run-around east of Waterloo, and three run-arounds between Kendallville and Ligonier.

No. 22—Pavement completed between Indianapolis and Martinsville and is being used by traffic using

three detours around bridge construction. South detour very narrow. However, the majority of thru traffic continues using No. 12 in order not to lose time on detours. Construction south of Paoli should be avoided if possible. Detour marked around bridge project south of Harrodsburg.

No. 24—Construction between Palmyra and Salem, detour via Fredericksburg or Martinsburg. (New Albany and Louisville traffic detour via Pekin and Martinsburg coming out on Road 5 at Greenville.)

No. 25—New pavement open from 'sacrange to Goshen—Middlebury pavement; thence go north into Middlebury to State Road 25. Run-around at bridge construction 8 miles east of Angola.

No. 26—Short detour 2 miles southeast of Columbus open first week in December.

No. 27—Detour only fair around bridge out over Elkhart river 3 miles south of Goshen.

No. 28—Earth road between Sandy Hook and Rodgers; ferry at White river. Drive carefully at dangerous hill south of Newberry.

No. 32—Roadside run-around at one bridge between Spencer and Greencastle. Road closed 2 miles north of Fincastle. Detour fair. Run-around at bridge construction at Romney.

No. 33—Side detour account bridge construction between Veedersburg and Covington.

No. 40—Bridge building between Madison and Brooksbury. Closed from 3 miles east of Scottsburg to Blocher. Detour good five miles course stone between Freeland and Cato.

No. 41—Being rebuilt as stone road. Traffic use new grade over Willow Valley hill except in wet weather, then use the old road.

Are You Run-Down, Weak or Nervous?

Read This Mother's Advice:

South Bend, Ind.—"I had become all run-down, very weak and nervous, and was so poorly that I could not do any of my work, but after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I regained my strength and never felt better in my life. It completely restored me to health. I had practically no suffering and my baby was very strong and healthy. I know 'Favorite Prescription' to be the best medicine a woman can take during expectancy and afterward for strength and health."—Mrs. C. L. Scott, 401 E. Sample St.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has made many women happy by making them healthy. Get it at once from your nearest druggist in either liquid or tablet form.

Hear The Word:—O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the Lord. Jeremiah 22:29.
Prayer:—Our Father, give us

per cent alcohol did not come under
timore juries are not construing the
this jury came to such a conclusion
Maryland court settled nothing.
many years to make the manufacture of intoxicating liquor illegal,
or the law that deals with its enforcement.Women were outraged by legalized rum for decade upon decade and their pleadings were in vain. Now when a woman talks to a politician,
Wets may make their feeble assaults,
amendment is in force.Pity The Poor PostmanNow come s the season of the year when we search our failing mem-
engraved greeting cards last year;
hold out.Pity the poor postman! Give him a chance to get through another hol-
shouldered and how-legged from carrying the heavy loads with which
mas.Mail them early and not any more
correctly. Then Uncle Sam will have
you have the Christmas greeting
card complex and want to send ev-
out on Christmas eve and slip them
hour Christmas day.DR. J. B. KINSINGER

son at the height of his career,
in the biggest fight of their lives,
over the League of Nations.It was a brain lesion that brought
of his fever years and his more recent vitality, Wilson was able
older than was Wilson at the time
recovered.NOT only in the similarity of
lives of these two men alike.
At the end, the bitterest political enemies this generation in America
has known, the qualities that
intellectuals in our public life.
reluctance with a scholarly un-
evitable that when they did clash
Lodge, no less than that of Wilson,
gle of 1913, which ended not only
defeated our entry into the League.
But he was a sick man ever after.THE lines of these two lives first crossed because of their opposite interests as scholars and historians.

Lodge was editor of the International Review, back in the 70's,

Wilson, then a student at Harvard.Wilson recalled this to Lodge at his first meeting with the senator,
following his election as president,
declaring that he always remem-
two was at noon on March 4, 1913.
Just a few minutes before Presi-
been admitted to the president's
capitol, to sign last-minute measures, rushed through the dying Congress.Lodge, as leader of the Republican majority in Congress, called on him there to announce that unless the President had something new to communicate the Congress was ready to adjourn.PROBABLY no man ever will be more over with his opponent than when they meet each other on this occasion.There was a tense, agonizing
long illness, his eyes at his side,
was still fighting the program of that blood clot on the brain.Then, slowly, with mental self-
impart to his personal speech, he turned. Except for his eyes, his face was calmly expressionless.
But when he spoke the shattering of his tone was like a steel down one's spine:"I have no further communications to make," he said. "I appreciate your courtesy. Good morn-
a blood clot on the brain!FIFTEEN YEARS

Although the Rushville high school basketball team outclassed Liberty at that city Friday night, overwhelming them by the score of 57 to 11, the game showed remarkable playing on the part of the locals, and a marked improvement in all departments of the game was clearly visible.

The Liberty team was a bunch of scrappy players and they fought hard at all times, but were puzzled by the quick, snappy passing of the Lions, and also could not penetrate the defense that the locals formed each time Liberty got possession of the ball.

In the game before the Rushville team displayed a weakness on defense, but in the game last night it showed that they were coming into their style of play, and another outstanding feature was the rapid fire passing that the locals possessed.

The team used all of the players in both halves of the game, and although Liberty fought hard to overcome the lead, they were weak on hitting the basket. Liberty also was without the services of two regulars.

The Lions were led in the scoring by Lakin who found himself with the basket, and counted ten times from the field. Arbuckle, Warth, Newbald followed with four each, and McNamara sunk in three. Every player performed in first class shape and it was worth the trip to Liberty to see the team work out like they did.

At the start of the game Bond fouled for Liberty, but Arbuckle missed both chances. In the next few seconds Bond dropped in a field goal for Liberty that gave the home team much encouragement. Newbald, however, tied the count soon afterwards, and when McNamara followed with another goal, it gave Rushville 4 and Liberty 2.

When Lakin scored the next one, Liberty called time out. When play resumed McNamara fouled, and Bond made good one of the two chances, making the score 6 to 3. Rushville then started their systematic playing and Liberty was unable to score any more in the half, while Rushville, with a full line of substitutions taking their places, had the score up to 28, with Liberty at 3, when the first half ended.

Liberty began to display their fighting spirit at the start of the second period, and scored two field goals right at the start, making the score 28 to 7. The local gradually began to leave them again, and the score was taken to 38, with Liberty trailing at 11.

Liberty was unable to go beyond the 11 mark, while the Lions continued their bombardment of the basket, and ran the score up to 57, when the game ended. Just as the shot was fired, a foul was called on Liberty, and Warth attempted for the point but as the crowd was leaving the floor, he missed.

Seconds Victors Also

In the preliminary game last night the Rushville second team won their game over the Liberty second team, 12 to 9, in a game in which neither team was able to hit the basket with much consistency.

For a long time after the game started the teams were unable to score, and finally Rushville scored on a foul. Liberty made a field goal, and Rushville matched it, and the first half ended with the ridiculously low score of 3 to 2.

Moscow high school, accompanied by a big delegation of rooters, visited their old time rivals at Raleigh Friday night, and plowed through the defense of Raleigh for many goals, winning out by a top heavy score of 60 to 17.

Moscow has set a dizzy pace for most of the teams this year and last night made up for some of the close games they have played with Raleigh in the past. Raleigh this year has comparatively a new team, and the showing against the veteran Moscow team is not regarded as so bad; and with the season far ahead, Coach Seales has hopes of getting the team over in good shape.

The Ging high school again showed their strength when they went to New Salem Friday night, and downed the New Salem tilters by the close score of 21 to 16.

The Ging team is exceptionally strong this year, and so far has met with good success. The New Salem team is handicapped this year on account of having to break in a new team, due to the fact that most of the players graduated last spring, leaving Coach Jinks with new material. He has bright prospects for next year.

Rushville boys making a field goal in the closing minute that put them in front, 12 to 9.

The Carthage Basketball team overcame a twelve point lead in the last half of the game with Spiceland at Spiceland Friday night, and won by one point, the score being 32 to 31.

Spiceland led the first half 17 to 11, and continued their point making in the last half until they had piled up the score to 25 while Carthage was trailing with 13 points.

At this point of the game Carthage came back with a last minute rally and began putting the ball through the hoop for many goals. They overcame the Spiceland lead in a few minutes and when the final shot was fired, won out by one point the score standing 32 to 31 in their favor.

Milroy got into the win column Friday night, when they swamped Waldron under an avalanche of baskets, coming out on top 41 to 16.

Milroy and Waldron have long been rivals and although Milroy had met two defeats in the former games each were by close margins, one to Carthage and the other to Connersville. The game last night showed Milroy in better form on the floor, and they hit the basket with much more accuracy. After the first few minutes of play, Milroy left Waldron trailing behind, and many substitutions were made during the game in order to give all of the Milroy players a chance.

The first half ended 17 to 14 with Morristown leading, and all through the game it was close. Reade and Kennedy played best for Arlington, while Westerfield and Gornell went best for Morristown.

New York, Nov. 15.—In the phenomenal growth of football to a position where it is possibly America's most popular sport, the intersectional idea of competition has had a most important part.

Even with competition confined to intra-sectional games, football might have extended its field in proportion with other popular sports but it is quite certain that the game would not have grown so stupendously as it has in the past five years without intersectional competition.

Football has become so popular that there is no way of gauging the future growth of the game. The biggest problem now is to find room for the millions of interested fans who want to spend their Saturday afternoons watching a battle of two teams, in which the majority of the spectators have no personal interest.

George Huff, the hustling graduate athletic manager of the University of Illinois, opened this season a most magnificent stadium at Urbana that was built and dedicated to the memory of 200 Illinois men who gave their lives with the A. E. F. The stadium, as it now stands, accommodates about 55,000.

"Because we wanted to build our stadium without going into debt we made the plans fit our pocketbook, but we kept in mind the fact that Illinois would outgrow that stadium and we put it up so that it can be added to from time to time. We are going to do that and I hope before I leave Illinois to see a stadium there large enough to seat 150,000 and I'm quite sure that we will see it filled. Perhaps then it will not be large enough."

Discussions of the popularity of football always bring a rise out of the old reliable "baseball circles. They claim that baseball is the national pastime and that certain baseball games would fill a stadium just as large as any of the football structures. This perhaps is correct. Certain game would draw equally with baseball, but we do not believe that as many games of baseball would outdraw as many games of football if it were possible to name the best baseball games possible as opposed to the best games of football that could be conceived.

It perhaps is a fact that greater numbers of youngsters and older athletes are engaged in playing baseball if it were possible to get accurate figures on the numbers of youngsters who engage in the two sports some surprising facts might be obtained about the popularity of football. Baseball always will have an advantage in that it holds forth over a longer and more comfortable season of the year. Kids who play baseball all summer, might play football all fall in the same numbers if they didn't have to spend the major portion of the day in

Manilla high school doubled the count on the Webb high school here Friday night, in a game played on the Modern Appliance floor, with the final count being 28 to 14.

Although Webb was outclassed, they fought a hard game, and tried in vain to hold down the husky team from Manilla.

In the curtain raiser to the game, the Webb girls took the measure of the New Salem girls by the score of 26 to 14, in a game that was fast and exciting from the start.

school. Football would have the advantage in that its equipment does not cost so much, the loss of equipment would not be so heavy and the smaller playing field for football would make it more handy for the youngsters.

In connection with the sermon on "The Home Maker" at St. Paul's M. E. church Sunday evening, the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Hargett, will answer the following questions:

What girls ought not marry? Are the qualities that capture many a girl's heart always the ones to be desired in a husband?

Do men prefer beauty or brains? Is it wise for wives to follow business or professional life?

To insure a happy marriage what qualities ought each party seek in the other?

By Rimsky Korsakoff (Russia) (1844-1908) B. Tikhavin
Rimsky-Korsakoff, born 1844, was an honest, fearless, fiery—a strong influence in social as well as artistic movements in Russia. He commenced life as a naval officer. In that capacity he is believed to have touched the shores of the United States in 1862. As we shall find, his acquaintance with the deep meant much to him as a composer. He loved nature and the Russian legends that nature inspired. He was continually telling fairy tales in his music. Thus his art was in most respects the precise opposite of that of Moussorgsky. Moussorgsky faced the realities of life, its tumult of purpose and desires, its noble dreams, its petty absurdities. All these things, which he contemplated with a passionate and unflinching gaze, went on his canvas. Rimsky-Korsakoff preferred the realm of the legendary and the poetic. He is the best known of "The Five" to the outside world. No one of the Russian composers was such a master in handling the orchestra. Tchaikovsky wrote of the gorgeous "Spanish Caprice" that it was the most brilliant feat of orchestration which had come to his attention. This "Caprice" is a fantasia on Spanish airs treated with exceptional spirit by the composer. Rimsky-Korsakoff, in addition to innumerable compositions for the voice and solo instruments, composed thirteen Barrientos's record of the song to the sun, sung by the queen in the most extravagant and delightful of operas, "The Golden Cockerel." This was the last opera that Rimsky-Korsakoff wrote.

FESTIVAL AT BAGDAD

The hold theme sung in octaves by the brass, with which this movement opens is the sea motive. It is heard in the previous movements also, but never with such commanding power; for this fourth movement from "Scheherazade," is really an epitome of all the rest. The composer seems to have had the seven tales of "Sinbad" generally in mind but, as in the book, he has intentionally introduced episodes from other stories and portrayed them musically. He aims for general impression rather than specific incident. After the tremendous, brazen opening the movement proper begins. In an instant we are transported to Bagdad. We mingle with the crowd in the bazaars, here an old blind merchant there an Arab merchant, a soldier, a beggar, a priest, a veiled woman. Over all is the blazing sun, shining upon a city of minarets and towers, of broad squares and palaces, on intricate, mysterious byways. All this is depicted musically with marvelous power. Snarling trumpets intone a call in vigorous rhythm; languishing melodies for strings, curious nasal melodies for clarinet or oboe, velvety strains for flute. Nothing lasts long; all is transient as the passing throng. But ever and anon come a sullen reminder of the opening sea-motive. Incomplete at first it gains force as the music progresses. Harshly, dissonant, it breaks in upon the light, flitting melodies, till finally we have the picture of the shipwreck.
